

To the Citizens of Monroe, Allen and Simpson Counties.

MONROE COUNTY, KY., July 22, 1865.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I am a candidate to present you in the State Senate to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Duncan. I have lived amongst you for twenty-five years, and am sure you know me well. It is wholly out of my power to come among you during the canvass, and, in person, communicate to you my views on the subjects that now agitate the people of our State. The ill-health of my family, and the fact that I am myself disabled by wounds inflicted by the enemies of our country, and it would probably cost me my life to exert myself as men usually do in a canvass; so I must content myself with saying to you that I am now, as I have ever been, a Union man in deed as well as in word; that I am for the government of our fathers against all things and everybody; that, if elected to the Senate, I shall act with the Union men of your State in restoring law, and order, and peace, and harmony, and in wiping out the last vestige of the late infamous rebellion. The first step to do this I believe to be the adoption of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery, now offered for your action. By adopting that amendment you can legally obliterate at once and forever that institution which has been the means, if not the cause, of all the desolation and bloodshed incident to the rebellion.

By adopting it you will free the white man more than you will free the slave.

I am for my own race first. If elected, I will vote for that amendment, believing that, if slavery as it now exists, is not only worthless, but a nuisance even to those who pretend to desire it.

I shall expect to receive the votes of loyal men, but those who have sided with the late rebellion, but who have stayed at home, and who still wish to keep up the strife, are not expected to vote for me, for I am unalterably and forever opposed to them, their motives and their purposes. I bear upon my body the scars of wounds inflicted by their friends in lawless and murderous assaults upon me, for the sole reason that I loved the government of Washington and Jefferson and of Jackson.

Much is said about military interference in the elections.

I am for a full and free exercise of the elective franchise, and am assured by the military authorities, and believe firmly there will be no interference with legal voters anywhere in Kentucky. It is the policy of the only, which is always ready with executive force for being against the Government. If you elect me, I shall endeavor to serve you faithfully and effectively.

JOHN M. FRANK.

CHAPTER 50.

AN ACT to amend chapter 50 of the Revised Statutes, entitled "Citizens, Expatriation, and Aliens."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That any citizen of this State who shall enter into the service of the so-called Confederate States
